Lessons I have learned in being a GSR, DCM, Intergroup Representative, Member-at-Large and Chair for Central Office of Western Colorado.

I revisited a recent conversation I had with my sponsor the other day, when discussing that I was planning to stand as Chair for Central Office. "Oh" he said laughing, "So you want to be the president of A.A.? Be sure to put that on your resume!" I replied, "I just want to be of service to A.A. and hold out the hand to A.A. to help the still suffering alcoholic. Being Chair for the Central Office afforded me the best opportunity to do that in partnership with our Central Office Manager, other Officers, Members at Large, Intergroup Representatives and lots of Volunteers (45+ at last count). I also have learned that I don't run the show but rather run our Intergroup meetings to gather consensus among the many members discussing and voting on issues that affect the direction of services at Central Office. Trying to impose my will on decisions that are made doesn't work. I came across this article recently written by Bill W in the Grapevine in 1947 that sums up my experience with lessons I've learned in being a GSR, DCM, Intergroup Representative, Member-at-Large and Chair for Central Office of Western Colorado.

Will AA Ever Have a Personal Government? Copyright The A.A. Grapevine, Inc., January 1947 - by Bill W.

The answer to this question is almost surely no. That is the clear verdict of our experience.

To begin with, each A.A. has been an individual who, because of his alcoholism, could seldom govern himself. Nor could any other human being govern the alcoholic's obsession to drink, his drive to have things his own way. Time out of mind, families, friends, employers, doctors, clergymen, and judges have tried their hand at disciplining alcoholics. Almost without exception the failure to accomplish anything by coercion has been complete. Yet we alcoholics can be led, we can be inspired: coming into A.A. we can, and we gladly do, yield to the will of God. Hence it is not strange that the only real authority to be found in A.A. is that of spiritual principle. It is never personal authority.

Our unreasonable individualism (egocentricity if you like) was, of course, the main reason we all failed in life and betook ourselves to alcohol. When we couldn't coerce others into conformity with our own plans and desires, we drank. When others tried to coerce us, we also drank. Though now sober, we still have a strong hangover of these early traits which caused us to resist authority. Therein probably hangs a clue to our lack of personal government in A.A.: no fees, no dues, no rules and regulations, no demand that alcoholics conform to A.A. principles, no one set in personal authority over anyone else. Though no sterling virtue, our aversion to obedience does pretty well guarantee us freedom from personal domination of any kind.

Still it is a fact that most of us follow, in our personal lives, the Twelve Suggested Steps to recovery. But we do this from choice. We prefer recovery to death. Then, little by little, we perceive the spiritual basis of life is the best. We conform because we want to.

Likewise, most A.A. groups become willing to follow the Twelve Points of Tradition to Assure Our Future. The groups are willing to avoid controversy over outside issues such as political reform or religion; they stick to their single purpose of helping alcoholics to recover; they increasingly rely on self-support rather than outside charity. More and more do they insist on modesty and anonymity in their public relations. The A.A. groups follow these other traditional principles for the very same reason that the individual A.A. follows the Twelve Steps to recovery. Groups see they would disintegrate if they didn't and they soon discover that adherence to our tradition and experience is the foundation for a happier and more effective group life.

Nowhere in A.A. is there to be seen any constituted human authority that can compel an A.A. group to do anything. Some A.A. groups, for example, elect their leaders. But even with such a mandate each leader soon discovers that while he can always guide by example or persuasion he can never boss, else at election time he may find himself passed by.

The majority of A.A. groups do not even choose leaders. They prefer rotating committees to handle their simple affairs. These committees are invariably regarded as servants—they have only the authorization to serve, never to command. Each committee carries out what it believes to be the wishes of its group. That is all. Though A.A. committees used to try to discipline wayward members, though they have sometimes composed minute rules and regulations and now and then have set themselves up as judges of other people's personal morals, I know of no case where any of these seemingly worthy strivings had any lasting effect—except, perhaps, the election of a brand-new committee!

Surely I can make these assertions with the greatest of confidence. For in my own turn I, too, have tried a hand at governing A.A. Each time I have strenuously tried it I have been shouted down.

After struggling a few years to run the A.A. movement I had to give it up—it simply didn't work. Heavy-handed assertion of my personal authority always created confusion and resistance. If I took sides in a controversy, I was joyfully quoted by some, while others murmured, "And just who does this dictator think he is?" If I sharply criticized, I usually got double criticism on the return bounce. Personal power always failed. I can see my older A.A. friends smiling. They are recalling those times when they, too, felt a mighty call to save the A.A. movement from something or other. But their days of playing Pharisee are now over. So those little maxims "Easy Does It" and "Live and Let Live" have come to be deeply meaningful and significant to them and to me. In such fashion each of us learns that, in A.A., one can be a servant only.

Here at the General Office (please substitute Central Office) we have long known that we can merely supply certain indispensable services. We can supply information and literature; we can usually tell how the majority of A.A.'s feel about our current problems; we can assist new groups to start, giving advice if asked; we can look after the over-all A.A. public relations; we can sometimes mediate difficulties. Similarly, the editors of our monthly journal, The A.A. Grapevine, believe themselves simply a mirror of current A.A. life and thought. Serving purely as such, they cannot rule or propagandize. So, also, the trustees of The Alcoholic Foundation (our A.A. general service committee) know themselves to be simple custodians, custodians who guarantee the effectiveness of the A.A. General Office and The A.A. Grapevine and who are the repository of our general funds and Tradition caretakers only.

It is most clearly apparent that, even here at the very center of A.A., there can only exist a center of service—custodians, editors, secretaries and the like—each, to be sure, with a special vital function, but none of them with any authority to govern Alcoholics Anonymous.

That such centers of service, international, national, metropolitan area or local, will be sufficient for the future, I can have no doubt. So long as we avoid any menacing accumulation of wealth or the growth of personal government at these centers, we cannot go astray. While wealth and authority lie at the foundation of many a noble institution, we of A.A. now apprehend, and thoroughly well, that these things are not for us. Have we not found that one man's meat is often another man's poison?

Shall we not do well if, instead, we can cling in some part to the brotherly ideals of the early Franciscans? Let all of us A.A.'s, whether we be trustees, editors, secretaries, janitors or cooks—or just member—ever recall the unimportance of wealth and authority as compared with the vast import of our brotherhood, love and service.

Step 3

Made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God as we understood Him.

Tradition 3

The only requirement for A.A. membership is a desire to stop drinking.

“It must never be forgotten that the purpose of Alcoholics Anonymous is to sober up alcoholics. There is no religious or spiritual requirement for membership. No demands are made on anyone. An experience is offered which members may accept or reject. That is up to them.”

~ Bill W., Alcoholics Anonymous Co-Founder

Step 4
Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.

Why is the Inventory Necessary?

- Examine how you have been an active participant in addiction
- Understand your thought processes surrounding addiction and esteem
- This self-examination allows insight into origins and pitfalls
- Step 4 isn't about solutions, but about learning

Tradition 4
Each group should be autonomous except in matters affecting other groups or A.A. as a whole.

Some may think that we have carried the principle of group autonomy to extremes. For example, in its original "long form," Tradition Four declares: "Any two or three gathered together for sobriety may call themselves an A.A. group, provided that as a group they have no other affiliation." But this ultra-liberty is not so risky as it looks. –A.A. COMES OF AGE, pp. 104-05

Excerpts from GSO Quarterly Report 4th Qtr 2025

General Service Board Meeting

The General Service Board of Alcoholics Anonymous, Inc., held its quarterly meeting at the Westin New York Hotel at Times Square on Monday, November 3, 2025. Scott H., Chair of the General Service Board, presided. All committees met during the weekend.

GSO Financial Results

The committee reviewed the unaudited financial results for the nine months ended September 30, 2025. Total operating revenue is $13,775,293, which is about 6% less than the YTD budget of $14,608,870. Total operating expenses before depreciation are $13,664,759, which is about 3% less than the YTD budget of $14,059,309. Operating surplus before depreciation is $110,534 compared to a YTD budgeted surplus of $549,561. Literature accounts receivable is $520,329, of which 35.5% is current, 28.1% is less than 60 days past due, and 36.4% is more than 60 days past due. The reserve fund is at 6.2 months of 2025 budgeted GSO, GV, and LV operating expenses. Cash increased $790K from the prior year due to cash receipts from International Convention registration and Convention item sales less cash disbursements to Convention vendors. The International Convention has a separate budget and profit and loss statement, but the funds received and disbursed to date are recorded on our balance sheet in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). This cash is not additional surplus for the General Service Board or AAWS because there are associated pending expenses, all of which are expected to be paid by October 31. A detailed budget and P&L for the 2025 International Convention is the responsibility of the Convention management vendor, Talley Management Group (TMG), with AAWS Board oversight. Reporting on these financials is separate and ongoing and includes a full accounting of Convention income and expenses. However, funds related to the Convention are our assets and must be included on our balance sheet as such. Accounts receivable, including the receivable from Grapevine, decreased $32K from the prior year due to robust receivable collections in September. Prepaid expense decreased by $604K because prepaid expenses associated with the Convention have been moved from prepaid expense to the Convention income statement as expenses. Accounts payable and accrued expenses increased $763K from the prior year due to less prompt payment of invoices resulting from lower contributions revenue. As of September 26, 46% of our accounts payable is current, 26% is between one and 30 days past due, and 28% is between 31 and 60 days past due. All the invoices that are more than 30 days past due are from our largest literature printing vendor, with which we have a mutually agreed upon payment plan. Contributions were 11% less than budget, and gross literature sales were 6% greater than budget. Literature gross margin was almost exactly the same as budget. The expense categories at or below budget are payroll taxes; professional fees; printing, postage, and supplies; data, automation and website; and travel and meetings. As of September 29, 2025, operating cash on hand was $344K versus accounts payable of $1.931M, resulting in a short-term deficit of $1.587M. It was reported that the AAWS Finance Committee recommended that monthly communication to Conference members be initiated from the Self-Support assignment, developed in consultation with the AAWS treasurer, chair of the General Service Board and general manager with regular updates provided to the AAWS Self-Support Subcommittee. The committee held a robust discussion regarding contributions being less than budget and emphasized the importance of a call to action. Suggestions included utilizing the Meeting Guide app, the "What's New" section of aa.org, direct communication to delegates, and follow-up efforts to inform the Fellowship of the current financial status

ALTERNATE DELEGATE

Greetings Area 10,

I hope as you read this small article you will enjoy your holidays with your loved ones, it is hard to believe we are in the middle of this rotation (panel) it seems like time flies.

I'm preparing myself for next year as head of ours, waiting for next year to serve you as you require. I am also waiting for next conference documents to come so I can read them all to understand what is on this year's agenda at the conference. I still attend online meetings with our regional trustee, as well as NAAD meetings every month. I will be traveling to Oklahoma City in March to attend SWRDA.

2026 STATE CONVENTION

Colorado Springs will host the Area Convention August 21–23, 2026, at The Antlers Hotel, bringing members from across Area 10 together for a weekend of connection, fellowship, and fun.

In December, the Area 10 State Convention Committee hosted, with what is believed to be its first-ever pre-registration event, graciously hosted by Walk The Talk—a huge shout-out and thank-you for providing the space and support. Programs Chair Nate G. opened the evening by sharing how he found a Sufficient Substitute through the AA program, reminding us that freedom from care, boredom, and worry is more than a slogan—it's something to be lived. Moments later, the ugly sweater catwalk made sure boredom stayed far, far away. The night was goofy, joyful, and full of laughter, with bold sweater choices, big struts, and lots of cheering.

TREASURER

Hello Area 10!

I'm looking forward to seeing everyone at the upcoming assembly March 20-22 in Ft. Collins.

We have fully funded our budget for FY26. What that means is, the cash available in our bank at 11/30/25 is greater than the budget for fiscal year ending 11/30/26. (The budget for FY26 is $95,864.40.)

Thank you to all the groups and individuals that contributed at the end of November and throughout the fiscal year to make sure we funded our budget. I don't have finalized figures for November 30, 2025, but they will be available at the Spring Assembly in March. (I'm still waiting on a few expense reports to be submitted.)

The year ending November 30, 2025 financials along with the January 31, 2026 financial statements will be presented at the Spring assembly.

Important! Please include your Group's Name, your District Number, and your Group's ID Number on your group's contributions to Area 10. If you are unsure of this information, include your phone number on your remittance and I'll be happy to follow up with you to determine the group number. The same information should be included on all Zelle contributions. This information will allow the Area to properly credit your group and district with your contributions Zelle contributions can be made by following the instructions found on the Treasurer's page at coloradoaa.org. (Zelle contributions can be received at treasurer@coloradoaa.org)

Contributions made by cash or check should be mailed to:

Thank you for allowing me to be of service.

The fun, welcoming atmosphere drew in members who don't typically attend Area events, many of whom joined in and registered. Pre-registrations are essential to ensuring we have the funds needed to put on an event of this scale. Still, these pre-registration events are about more than just pre-registration—they're a chance to fellowship, laugh, and hear the experience, strength, and hope of the program while building unity across Area 10. Each event will feature a committee member sharing their story, offering a creative and engaging way to get everyone excited for the Convention. There's not much else to report due to the holidays, but the committee is heading into the new year refreshed, energized, and ready. Keep an eye out for upcoming pre-registration events—because freedom from boredom might include another catwalk.

We will still need lots of help! If you would like to volunteer, please get in touch with me. We would love to have you on board!

In catwalks and service,
